The following is the report for presentation to the shareholders of the China and Manile Steamship Company, Limited, at the seventh ordinary general meeting to be held at the office l of the General Managers on Saturday, the 8th | March.

We have the pleasure to submit to shareholders the annexed statement of accounts made up to the 31st December, 1839, and showing a balance at oredit of profit and loss account of \$10,464.66 It is proposed to deal with this amount as follows, taying a balance of \$2,464.66, to be carried forward to credit of next year's account. The result of the year's work has been adversely which largely increased the steamers' running expenses, and second, by an accident to the machinery of the Diamants causing her to be laid up at Manils for nearly six weeks during the most lucrative period and diminishing her earnings accordingly. GREEN ISLAND CEMENT COMPAN $\cdot \boldsymbol{L}IMITED$.

The first annual meeting of the shareholder in the above Company was held yesterday af present:-Messrs. Creasy Ewens (Chairman). D. Hutchison, T. Arnold, W. Judd, Lee Sing, Poon Pong, Ip King Chin, Sin Tak-fan, and J. Foreman (Secretary.) The CHAIRMAN said-Gentlemen, as the report has been in your hands for some days it may be taken as read. I do not propose to say anything further at present, as it is desirable to suit the convenience of shareholders, that the meeting should be adjourned. There is only one thing to be done at present, and that is t elect the directors. Mr. Jupp-I have much pleasure in proposing that the following gentlemen be elected d rectors:—Messrs. Possnecker, Hutchison, Inchbald. Lee Sing, and Poon Pong. Mr. ARNOLD seconded. Carried nem. con. The CHAIRMAN-I don't know whether any shåreholder would like to ask any questions now. If so I will be glad to answer them. Mr. Arnold-I should like to ask what you Mr. Deveron's The Laird, 11st. 4lbs propose to do about the unpaid calls. The CHAIRMAN—That is a very proper question to ask, but a very difficult one to answer. We do not propose to do anything with regard Mr. Bonedick's Claudio, 10st 91bs. (Mr. Read) to them until after the 31st March and think, at the adjourned meeting, it will be a subject to be brought under disc ssion I think myself that when shareholders see the cement steadily selling in the mar ket-and I hope we shall be in that position in a short time—a considerable number of calls will be paid up. If not we shall have to pass a special resolution to forfeit the shares. I don't think we can decide anything at present, unt we see what number of stareholders pay their calls. I don't know whether you know the numbers, but out of 20,000 shares 10,000 are fully paid up, 2,143 have paid up $40, 2,168 have paid up $25, and there are 5,389 who have only paid up $5.

Mr. Arnold-With regard to the 5.3.9 wh have only paid $5, they could very easily abandon their shares now and possibly bny them in again at a profit. The CHAIRMAN-I don't know that they could very easily abandon 5,389 shares.

Mr. Arnold-But if they only held a few. The CHAIRMAN—I think a considerable number of the calls will be paid up. Mr. Jude—You charge them 12 per cent. interest, I suppose.

The CHAIRMAN—Yes. Mr. ARNOLD—It is all very well for these people to come in, if the thing turns out a success, and say they went to pay their calls, and if it does not, simply forfeit their $5. The CHAIRMAN-No shareholder would receive any dividend until he had paid his calls and interest.

Mr. ARONLD—Could not you bring some presure to bear on them? The CHAIRMAN-Yes, I am quite willing to do that, and it is a question to be put before the directors at their meeting next week whether some steps should not be taken. N'r. ARNOLD-I think if they paid another 85.

The CHAIRMAN—Yes, I think that would be up that some may decide to forfeit their shares. If you could get them to pay up a further $5 on | three raced together passed the stand almost account it would be something. Mr. JUDD-But with the prospect of the CHAPTER XXIV. "A d she was flattered, worshipped, bored." "Oh! gone—yes," says Nan, wearily; "I wish could say for good."

"But are you sure, certain I thought she would ask to see me again. You saw her go?" "Arrah, Miss, didn't ye hear her go?" aska ir Murphy, who has been giving the battered old pieces of silver a severe cleaning, and is now replacing some of them upon the sideboard. Pair, the clatther o' thim ridickins shoes ov hers goin down the steps a minnit since, would have waked the seven sleepers were they sporin'. "She's gone, intleed, for a sesson," says Nan, discontentedly, "after being about as disagreeable as ever she could be. Such a temper! And all because she is afraid her bonnet will be spoiled I never met anyone whose remarks are so full of the most experably bad faste. And the worst of it is we have got to endure her. No hope of escape. I wish," with a half comic sigh, "that comebody would run away with her."

A shuckle from the veteran at the sideboard here attracts their attention. "Run away wid ber, is it ?" says be. "Fegs, e needn't think ye'll get rid of her that way. "No, he isn't," says Nan, fractiously mindful of last evening's skirmish with that young man. "He is both conceited and masterful, I can't bear him. I wish that horrid old uncle of his was alive, and then we should not be annoyed by his presence here.2-"He's a very kind man," says Penelope representalty. " Indeed, Nan, I think the only fault you see in him is that he is in love with you." Yee, really now. Nan, you must confess he is good natured." said Gladys. "And as to the fact of his loving you being considered a fault, well, that's a barsh way of looking at things." "I wish a few more people with his fault would come down here," says Penelope, laughing, "that is if I might be the object of their failing."
